The total graduation requirement is 128 credits, including 48 credits of university core required courses, 3 credits of college core required course, 33 credits of department required courses, 34 credits of department electives, and 10 credits of general electives (including 4 credits of EMI courses).

Definition and Regulations of General Elective Courses:

General elective courses refer to elective courses offered by various colleges, departments, and centers of the university. During the course of study, students must complete at least 10 credits of general elective courses, including a minimum of 4 credits from EMI (English as a Medium of Instruction) courses.

◎When taking the 33-credit departmental cores, students should follow the following regulations.

1.Students need to pass Graduation Project I before taking Graduation Project II and Research Methodology II.

◎When taking the 34-credit departmental electives, students should follow the following regulations.

1.Among the pair courses of (Contemporary Social Development Problems and Cultural Politics and Society), (Comparative Politics and International Relations), and (Introduction to Economic Policy, Economic Policy in Practice and Introduction to Business Management), students need to pass at least 2 pairs from the 3.

2.Students need to take Case Study and Qualitative Analysis or Survey Design and Applied Statistics.

◎When taking the 10-credit general electives (including 4 credits of EMI courses), the following rules apply.

1.All elective courses and internship offered by the Department or other international-affairs-related courses offered by other departments can be qualified as the credits for the 10-credit general electives. (When taking courses offered by other departments, please check with the Department to assure that they are related to international affairs.)

2.If Students' English proficiency is at the C2 level of the CEFR (The Common European Framework of Reference for Languages), they can provide proof of certificate to the Department to waive English Reading for International Affairs and English Writing for International Affairs and to take another 6 credits of courses to meet the requirements of the two core courses.

3.Before graduation, every student needs to successfully pass at least one certificate sanctioned by the department.

4.The content of internships is as follows:
